A (Mobile) Restroom Fit for a King

Recently, JAG Mobile Solutions had the honor of building a luxury mobile shower-restroom for the King and Crown Prince of Dubai to use while attending the World Equestrian Games in Lexington, Kentucky. The World Equestrian Games are considered the Olympics of the Equestrian World, drawing competitors in eight equestrian events from all around the world. The 2010 event was the first time the United States hosted this prestigious event.

JAG Mobile Solutions was called upon by Lundy's Catering to provide a unique, luxurious, mobile restroom and shower...for personal use by the King and Crown Prince of Dubai. The King and Crown Prince reserved a lavish structure on the grounds at the Kentucky Horse Park. The structure included private lounge, a ballroom, a prayer room, a massage room, and of course an elegant private shower-restroom from JAG Mobile Solutions.

The shower-restroom is a 15' JAG trailer, featuring two rooms. One room serves as the bathroom, with a toilet, urinal, and custom shower. The second room serves as a relaxation area, with a 40" flat screen TV, large double vanity, and a sitting area.

The JAG trailer also features granite counters, custom wall coverings, custom woodwork and floating cabinetry, louvered interior doors, sconce lighting, and custom exterior paint.

The armed security force for the King and Crown Prince used a JAG Mobile Solutions' Command Center as their base of operations while protecting the King and Crown Prince. The Command Center features work stations for nine, and a private conference room, in a 24' JAG Mobile Solutions' trailer.

The King and Crown Prince enjoyed their luxury mobile restroom for the seventeen days and nights of the World Equestrian Games, which were filled with spirited competition and exquisite parties. Now the trailer awaits its next elegant appointment.
